Tests Awaited To Add Men To Police Force

At Least 2 More Needed For City

Radio Hookup Due Here Jan. 1

Circleville civil service commission is preparing to conduct examinations for two and possibly three new policemen to enlarge the present force for full-time operation of the two-way radio to be installed here by Jan. 1.

An authoritative source also disclosed that the Pickaway County commissioners have been approached to consider hiring a new deputy to be added to the sheriff's department.

Meanwhile, the Federal Communications Commission approved call letters WCZW for the two-way radio which is to be in operation for city police and Pickaway County sheriff.

Mayor Thurman I. Miller, chief spokesman in getting city council's approval for the police radio, said the Motorola Co. of Chicago has assured him of delivery and installation by that date.

While the civil service commission has the power to conduct examinations for new police, city council must approve the appointments and make arrangements in the annual budget for additional salaries.

The mayor said he had written a letter to the civil service commission about a month ago requesting it to conduct the examinations at least before Jan. 1.

COUNCIL hinted Oct. 19, when it passed the ordinance authorizing the expenditure of $2,640 for purchasing of radio equipment for the city that the need for additions to the police force "was apparent," Miller said.

The county's half of the radio setup to be used by the sheriff's office was made in an outright gift of $2,700 from the Veterans of Foreign Wars to the people of the county.

Violent Quake Rocks Islands

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 4 — Reports reaching Mexico City said today that a violent earthquake and tidal wave struck the Marques Islands in the Pacific Ocean last night, killing several persons. Many others were reported injured.

The islands, which lie off Mexico's west coast, are the site of a penal colony.

The prison commandant was said to have taken precautions to prevent escapes.

IT WAS LIKE AN EARTHQUAKE, says Clarence Williams, when cars of a 23-car freight jumped the track and sheared off part of their house, Philadelphia, knocking five persons out of bed. Two cars were embedded so far into Williams' domicile they couldn't be removed until building inspectors gave OK.

ALL-TIME RECORD EXPECTED

November's Business Fine, Postal Barometer Claims

Circleville Postmaster A. Hulse Hays has revealed that November was a big business month in Circleville, according to his "business barometer."

"One of the best business barometers known," said the postmaster, "is the total amount of postal receipts taken in at a postoffice."

"Our receipts here during November show there was considerably more business done this year than for a comparable period in 1947."

He said that November's receipts totaled $4,993.85, an increase of more than $700 compared to the receipts totaling $4,260.47 recorded in November, 1947.

According to postoffice figures, this year's receipts nearly equalled the all-time high set in November of 1944, when a total of $5,190.71 was recorded.

IN COMPARISON, Hays pointed out the difference in figures when compared to the all-time low November low total of $2,603.17 set in 1933.

The Circleville postoffice also expects this year's total a volume of mail passing through to exceed the record high set in 1947.

Hays said that for November approximately 144,000 pieces of mail passed through the Circleville postoffice, an increase over last year's total of nearly 139,000 of some 5,000 pieces.

In view of the heavy load expected during December, the local postoffice plans to hire 11 extra hands during the period. They will be divided so that there will be five extra letter-carriers and six window clerks.

The jury also limited the possible sentence by setting a $30 value on the meat. On such minor thefts the maximum penalty is $200 fine, 30 days in jail, or both.

TOKYO, Dec. 4—Delays in the executions of Hideki Tojo and six other Major Japanese war criminals appeared today to have solidified popular sentiment in the "Pearl Harbor premier's" favor.

WEST ALLIES DENY RUSSIA'S POLL-BREAKING PROPAGANDA

State Department Plagued By Spies?

Probers May Show Microfilms Dug From Ex-Red's Back Yard

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4—The House Un-American Activities Committee promised today to bare to the nation evidence of a vast network of Communist espionage in the State Department before the war.

The evidence, unearthed after a ten-year search, reportedly proves that Soviet agents got microfilm copies of top-secret State Department documents.

It will be revealed at public hearings next week which may be among the most spectacular ever held by the committee.

The committee hastened to reopen its spy hearings, terminated in September, when investigators unearthed "hundreds" of microfilms of top secret documents at the home of a self-confessed former Communist.

The miniature photographs of official documents were found concealed in the backyard of the Westminster, Md., home of Whitaker Chambers. The period they covered was approximately 1935 to 1938 inclusive.

Sen.-Elect Mundt, (R) S. D., retiring member of the committee, said the evidence had been hunted for 10 years.

HE DECLARED that it appeared to prove that secret documents bearing on national security "were fed out of the State Department by a member of the Communist underground" to NANKING, Dec. 4—The Chinese government poured reinforcements today into the life-or-death battle for Pengpu, the last Nationalist stronghold standing between the Communists and the capital at Nanking.

A Nationalist defense ministry spokesman claimed initial victories over the Red forces, including the routing of Communist soldiers along the Tientsin-Pukow railway north of Pengpu. The ministry said that the Communists suffered 2500 casualties.

Government spokesmen said that the real battle for Pengpu may be decided this weekend. Some 750,000 government and Communist forces have been committed to the battle, just 100 miles north of Nanking.

More Fuel Gas Due Ohio Utility

COLUMBUS, Dec. 4—Ohioans have been promised more natural gas this winter by C. I. Weaver, president of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co.

Weaver said the Columbia Gas System will gain 75 million cubic feet daily from additional Texas deliveries over the lines of the Tennessee Gas Transmission Co., which supplies the Ohio Company.

He warned, however, that the additional supply would not be sufficient to relax the restrictions on additional space heating equipment.

Rescue vessels were said to have picked up about 700 survivors thus far. The vessel, the 2000-ton Kiangya, blew up while attempting to avoid a collision with two junks.

Officials of the steamship line said that the explosion crippled the ship's engines, darkening the vessel, and disabling the radio room.

The 1,602 men and 150 officers all were evacuated safely.

Milk, Fowl Production Hike Asked

Government Issues Pleas To Farmer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4—The government has asked farmers to set their sights for 120 billion pounds of milk and 700 million young chickens for poultry flock replacements in 1949.

The Agriculture Department, fixing crop goals for next year, also called for more stock sheep and lambs, sweet potatoes, legume and grass seeds and tame hay.

Announcement of the department's 1949 crop program is to come in piecemeal fashion, with today's recommendations being merely a first installment.

The program calls for continued high-level production of summer vegetables. It suggests somewhat smaller acreages of rice and flaxseed.

If milk production reaches the 120-billion-pound goal it would represent a three percent increase over 1948 production.

SINCE dairy herd replacements will be limited, most of the gain would have to come from stepping up this year's output per cow, already at a record of more than 5,000 pounds.

To aid in this accomplishment, liberal feed supplies are already in sight for the first half of next year.

The goal of 700 million young chickens is a ten percent increase over the number raised in 1948.

Agriculture officials believe this would provide 273 million pullets and a total laying flock of 405 million birds by Jan. 1, 1949.

With average production, this would mean about 370 eggs per person in 1949. In addition the suggest is geared to provide about 23.5 pounds of chicken meat per person.

Authorities point out that some increase in red meat supplies is in prospect for 1949, thus lessening the demand for eggs as a meat substitute.

The department wants farmers to raise ten percent more turkeys next year—slightly more than 35 million birds, or about four pounds per person.

It was pointed out that expanding sheep production will require several years and sheepmen were urged to concentrate now on building up breeding stock.

A GOAL of 30.5 million head by the end of 1949 is considered desirable.

The suggested acreage for rice would produce a crop of about 22 million 100-pound bags if the yield equals the ten-year average of 46.2 bushels per acre.

A 12 percent increase in the 1948 harvested acreage of sweet potatoes, or a goal of 607,000 acres, would result in a 57-million-bushel crop if the yield should equal the 1942-46 average.

Police Probe Towing Racket

COLUMBUS, Dec. 4—An investigation of a reported auto-towing racket, wherein wrecker cars are towed away at exorbitant fees, is underway today in Columbus.

Safety Director C. C. Cole, in announcing the inquiry, said certain garage operators were running an ambulance-chasing business with short-wave police radios. He said they speed to the scene of a crash after being notified by radio and charge "as much as $15 for towing."

Several owners, refusing to pay such prices have been forced to bring replevin actions in municipal court to get their cars back.

Cole pointed out that use of short wave police radios by private individuals for gain is a federal offense.

This, many believe, would only prove that America want "petty vengeance."

Japanese newspapermen assigned to sample public opinion by eavesdropping on streetcars, restaurants, and street corners—report that Japanese are no longer even discussing the executions except to express the wish that they would come quickly.

Publication of Buddhist Priest Nobukatsu Hannayama's report that Tojo and the others have become devoutly Buddhist has created a wave of popular sentiment favoring the condemned men.

These polls show that few Japanese consider the executions have any legal basis and most of them believe that they are pure "vengeance."

In justice of peace court Friday, O'Brien told Squire Root that Arthur Rohrer Jr. had been "teasing me and my wife about our old car."

He said when his car stalled Wednesday night in New Holland, young Rohrer began pushing the vehicle and that "I just lost my temper and cuffed him away."

University hospital attendants listed his condition as "serious."

County Bookmobile Set To Begin Tours Jan. 1

Selection of books to be offered will include fiction, readers, primers and picture illustrations, adventure stories, mystery books and novels. Also, offered will be histories, travel and biographies.

The librarian said the collection had been enlarged by borrowing many hundreds of books from the state library on a long term loan.

Pickaway County's first bookmobile was started as an experiment with state aid and the addition of WPA workers. In one year, circulation exceeded the 93,000 mark, Mrs. Denham reported.

She said that the county's need for more books is urgent because schools have become more crowded, costs have risen tremendously and the city's book circulation in one year has broken all records.

Some of the newer books will be offered in the bookmobile service are "Big Fisher man," "Dinner At Antoine's," "Roanoke Hundred," "Moon Is Mine," "Of Flight And Life," and "With Might and Main."

Red Spy Data Found

(Continued from Page One) sions, Chief Investigator Robert E. Stripling and members of the committee staff began photographing and classifying the microfilms. Stripling said Chambers pointed out the spot where they were hidden.

The microfilms were being kept under a 24 hour guard. Chambers was served with a subpoena to testify and another was prepared for Alger Hiss, former State Department aide. Still others have already been served.

Other two-way hookups now being used are by the South Central Rural Electric Co-op Inc., on West Main street, City Cab Co., and a Bell Telephone System being used by the Dunlap Co. in Williamsport.

Under cooperative city-county two-way radio plan, the city will be responsible for one-half the maintenance costs and the county the remainder.

Officials who have been backing the radio hookup here said the system will greatly enhance police protection for both city and county residents.

Circleville's growing industries bringing the need for added police protection first brought to mind of installing two-way radio mind of city officials the urgency

Hiss, adviser to the late President Roosevelt at the Big Three conference in Yalta, was accused by Chambers during the committee's hearings last summer of having been a member of a Communist "underground" which was infiltrating the government.

ChAMBERS STATED that he left the Communists in 1938. Hiss charged Chambers a liar and questioned his sanity. The former State Department aide is now president of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace.

Stripling told newsmen that the seized microfilms, reduced to photographs, would be made public at the hearings. There was a possibility that the State Department might ask the committee not to do so on the ground the national security was involved.

Presbyterians Now Seeing Church Change

CINCINNATI, Dec. 4 — Dr. Raymond V. Kearns of the Presbyterian Board of Christian Education in Philadelphia, says that "a peaceful revolution is taking place in the Presbyterian church." He said:

"The revolution started officially on the first Sunday in October when a new program of Christian education was launched in over 6,000 of our churches."

Dr. Kearns termed the program a "new curriculum," and said the church is returning to its basic and most important teaching medium, the family. He said the program is revolutionary in that the parents now have a concrete job to do at home with the Christian training of their children.

Materials to be used, he said, are books to be read at home, written in attractive story form and packed with abundant, colorful and accurate illustrations."

"Through these books," he said, "parents are directed in an appealing fashion to the basic subjects of their children's work in the church school."

Mrs. Josephine Humbles Kyles, assistant secretary of the Washington Federation of Churches, declared the Christian church has a definite compulsion to secure and preserve the Christian home and the institution of marriage.

"Therefore," she explained, "the church must be concerned with fighting all the forces and institutions which threaten the existence of the family structure."

"Also the church must be concerned with training its clergy and lay leadership to cope adequately with the counselling and guidance of parents in making meaningful the teachings of the Christian religion in developing their own family relationship."

Friends Start Friendship Garden Aid Project

With 26,000 "Friendship Gardens" already planted in Europe and Asia, the American Friends Service Committee has started a special Thanksgiving-Christmas drive to raise the total to at least 50,000 by the end of the year.

"Friendship Gardens" are grown from special assortments of vegetable seeds bought with the gifts of thousands of American children and grown-ups, and distributed by the Quakers to needy families overseas. Made available by a leading seed company at the cost price, fifty cents, each Friendship seed packet will plant a garden measuring over a thousand square feet, and furnish a family of five with its requirements of a dozen essential fresh vegetables, with enough left over to can for future use. As its own contribution to the program, the seed company includes an assortment of flower seeds, so that the Friendship Gardens will have beauty as well as utility.

Kenneth E. Cuthbertson, director of the Columbus Service Committee office, described the seed program as "a most practical expression of brotherhood and goodwill." He told how the harvests from gardens planted with past contributions have given spiritual as well as physical help to the needy in foreign countries. As an expression of thanks, toys, drawings and paintings were sent to the Service Committee by children in Hungary, Poland, and other areas. One blind Japanese boy wrote: "On behalf of my friends living here, I will express my thanks for the seeds you sent us; seeds of your mind which will take root in our school ground over here and bear the beautiful fruits eternally. We wish you the best of health from this far away shore of the Pacific Ocean."

Packets contain only those varieties of seeds approved by the Department of Agriculture for use in areas to which they are sent. Planting instructions are given in German or Japanese. Each package bears a message of good-will and the name and address of the individual donor.

EUB Bishop Named Head Of Federal Church Council

CINCINNATI, Dec. 4 — Bishop John S. Stamm of Harrisburg, Pa., was elected president of the Federal Council of Churches here yesterday.

Mrs. Mildred McAfee Horton, president of Wellesley college and wartime commander of the Waves was elected vice-president.

Bishop Stamm, president of the board of bishops of the Evangelical United Brethren church, was first elected as a church bishop in 1926 and was past vice-president of the federal council.

The bishop has held pastorates for 20 years in Missouri and Illinois.

Mrs. Horton is the first woman to be elected to a major office in the history of the federal council.

Also elected were: Harper Sibley of Rochester, N. Y., treasurer; and the Rev. W. Glenn Roberts of New Haven, Conn., secretary.

A budget of $640,289, an increase of $79,000, was approved for 1948 and two new bodies were admitted to the council membership. They were the Religious Society of Friends of Philadelphia and the Romanian Orthodox Episcopate of America.

Special messages from J. Leighton Stuart, ambassador to China, and John Foster Dulles, head of the American delegation to the UN General Assembly, were read to the delegates.

Stuart lashed out at what he called the "Communist menace" in Asia—but added that no government in Asia can survive in the face of Communism unless it does a better job than it has done in the past to improve the lot of the common people.

Stuart said the ancient civilizations of Asia "are watching with suspicion and fear, but also with tremulous hopes, the activities and intentions" of the Western nations.

Dulles said churches have a "special responsibility to create strong, intelligent moral judgment and to support the United Nations which enables such judgments to have worldwide influence."

Marriage Helps Should Begin At Birth, Claim

CINCINNATI, Dec. 4 — Marriage guidance should start at birth," the Rev. Roy A. Burkhardt of Columbus told the national conference on church and home in Cincinnati.

"Too little and too late," is the way he characterized most marriage advice given to youth.

Bishop Hazen G. Werner, of Columbus, head of the Methodist church in the Ohio area, agreed when he said emotional immaturity is the basic cause of marriage breakdowns.

Mrs. James D. Wyker, of the state department of economics told the group "any home that is too good for young people, is too good."

Dr. Oliver M. Butterfield, professor of social science at M. T. San Antonio college, Pamona, Calif., said that most advice given by ministers to young couples on the eve of marriage was about 10 years too late.

Mrs. Grace Loucks Elliott, general secretary of the national board of the YWCA, urged that all children be treated equally when she asked the delegates to decide whether "God is father of all men or there are second class children or favorite races or nations."

Dr. L. Foster Wood, chairman of the Inter-Council Committee on Christian Family Life, which sponsors the conference, asked substitution for the push-button life children lead today.

He said the child learns little of performing useful tasks around the house, and asked the church to participate actively in family education.

The inter-council also sponsors the Federal Council of Churches and the United Council of Church Women.

The federal council includes 25 Protestant and orthodox churches with 28 million members.

Christian World Now Void Of Competing Clans, Claim

CINCINNATI, Dec. 4 — Dr. Samuel McCrea Cavert declared that "the Christian world, excluding Roman Catholicism, is a potent, unified force, split by family quarrels, but no longer separated into competing clans."

Dr. Cavert, who is general secretary of the Federal Council of Churches, spoke at the 40th anniversary meeting of the council in Cincinnati. He continued:

"The constant struggle of the Christian church to secure freedom and justice for all is often misunderstood and even described as 'Communistic.' As a matter of fact, it is the one effective, long-range way of preventing Communism."

He attributed the "feebleness" of the church's effort to extend its influence in secular affairs to depending too exclusively upon the preacher and too little upon the layman.

However, he said that the federal council is "now receiving more effective leadership from the laity than ever before." He especially noted the leadership in the last two years by President Charles P. Taft of Cincinnati and the cooperation of management, labor and agricultural leaders with the department of economic life in the United States.

Dr. Cavert cited as an indication of the "social force" of the American church the investigation conducted in 1922-23 into the 12-hour day in the steel industry and the overseas relief in which the council is now engaged. He said:

"The unity of the Christian church reached its climax last August with the birth of a worldwide council of churches at Amsterdam."

Dr. Jesse Bader, secretary of the Department of Evangelism, reported that total church membership in all denominations is now the highest in history.

He said membership of the Protestant bodies has increased by 3,713,006 persons.

SPANISH PRISONER

THE Brooklyn Bridge is no longer for sale, or if it is, there no longer are any takers. But the "Spanish prisoner" swindle is still tried. Only the other day Los Angeles post office inspectors arrested a Mexican and his American-born wife for attempting to use the mails in this old fraud.

Many people have seen these "Spanish prisoner" letters in their time. The formula seems never to vary. The letter comes reputedly from an unjustly imprisoned man. For some reason, nowadays, it is never a woman but it used to be a beautiful lady. The prisoner has a fortune hidden away if he could only get at it. He offers half of it to any kind soul who will forward money to procure his release. Naturally, if the recipient is green enough to send anything, that is the last that is ever heard of it.

What is the appeal of this plea that, despite constant exposures, causes it to be used successfully still? It must touch some romantic chord, the combination of an unjust imprisonment, as in the story-books, and of the glamorous land of Spain, where doubtless there are plenty of political prisoners. However that may be, if it comes your way, look out for it. Do not send any money.

INSIDE OR OUTSIDE?

IF SHAKESPEARE were still alive, he probably would be able to turn out a keen parody of his own soliloquy, "To Be or Not To Be," on the basis of the position of Eire, which we still think of as Ireland although it does not include all of the island, in the British Commonwealth of Nations.

Eire is busily cutting away its last legal link to the British Crown. But the British government is trying to regard this act as the coy "no" of a lass who really means "yes." Prime Minister Atlee said Britain will recognize that Eire is outside the Commonwealth, but that the severance of ties will not be regarded as "placing Eire in the category of foreign countries, or Eire citizens in the category of foreigners."

Presumably if an Irish visitor is encountered on British soil in the future, the question whether he is a foreigner would draw an emphatic "yes" from the Irishman and "no" from a Briton. This is the reverse of the situation often arising around visitors in a proud community.

We have the idea that if all Ireland should ever become a complacent unit in the United Kingdom, life would be much less interesting in that corner of the world.

NEW YORK—Mr. James Savo, the celebrated pantomimist, is back in town amusing the cash customers. Mr. Savo has a charming set of wistful eyebrows, but his effect on the cash customers is exactly like that of all comedians from the late W. C. Fields down—that is, for every six persons who think he is wonderful, marvelous and a great artist in his own way, there are a half dozen who sit frozen-faced and say, "This is a comedian?"

The value of comedians is something I gave up arguing about many seasons ago. I once met a man who liked the Ritz brothers and didn't like the Marx brothers, and I figured that if such blasphemy as that goes on in the world, obviously no two persons really see eye to eye on what constitutes high comedy.

However, we digress. Mr. Savo is back in town. Many things have happened to Jimmy since I saw him last, he has, for example, acquired a castle in Italy and an artificial leg.

In spite of the considerable interruption to his career that the loss of his leg caused, he has been inching slowly up the ladder of fame until now he rightfully is allowed in the best saloons to entertain the loftiest Tories.

When I saw him last, it was an historic occasion. It was early in the war and the Office of Defense Transportation, spinning frantically in a yogi-like trance, had decided there were to be no more taxicabs going from one state to another.

It was evidently a question of saving gasoline or rubber, and Mr. Savo and I decided that the sad and memorable moment should be observed fittingly. We took the last taxicab ride to New Jersey.

THIS IS A HAZARDOUS UNDERTAKING AT ANY TIME, so to fortify ourselves, we took along Margie Hart, the strip-tease. Both Miss Hart and M'sieu Savo were rehearsing at that time for a show called Wine, Women and Song, which, if I recall, got into all

These Days

After the downfall of Napoleon, Europe faced all the confusions which we face today. Napoleon had tried to reorganize the world to his liking. He sought a federation of states under himself; something that Stalin is trying to do today. Opposed to Napoleon were those countries which he had failed to master and those which managed to liberate themselves. He was master of the world, creating states, appointing kings, changing forms of government.

Then he failed. The real cause for his failure will long be debated, but when it happened and he was a prisoner on St. Helena, Europe engaged in conferences at Paris and Vienna and undoubtedly in other places to find a conclusion to a prolonged, universal war. It was extraordinarily difficult and the nations were in conflict, even to their own detriment. The shock of Napoleonism did not readily abate. Napoleon was present in spirit at every conference as Hitler is present today.

The most curious character at these conferences was Talleyrand, French and married bishop of the Roman Catholic Church, Napoleon's Foreign Minister as he was now the Minister of Louis XVIII. He had survived the Revolution, Napoleon, and was now making a peace. He had his instructions from Louis, which he probably wrote himself. I quote the essence of them from Ferrero's "The Reconstruction of Europe". I quote them because they apply today as poignantly as they did when Talleyrand made them his guide.

"The European nations do not live under moral or natural law alone but also under a law which they have invented and which gives the first law a sanction which it would otherwise lack; a law established by written conventions or by customs which are constantly, universally, and mutually observed, based always on mutual consent, whether expressed or tacit, and obligatory for all. This law is the law of nations.

"This law has two fundamental principles. One is that sovereignty cannot be acquired by the simple act of conquest, nor be transferred to the conqueror, if the sovereign does not cede it willingly. The other is that no title of sovereignty, and consequently the law which proceeds therefrom, has any reality for other states, unless they recognize it."

Our own troubled times arise, of course, out of war and all that preceded the war, but more immediately they come from errors of judgment and misunderstanding of history at the preliminary conferences of Teheran, Yalta and Potsdam, the order JCS 1067 which implemented the Morgenthau Plan and the failure to make of the United Nations a true parliament of man.

The essential error was that the law of nations was abandoned. For it was substituted a series of deals, trades, transactions based upon the assumption that sovereignty is a matter of no importance, that lands and peoples can be moved without their consent and against their interest. So we find Poland made a fief of Soviet Russia; Manchuria made into a Soviet sphere of influence; Korea divided in half between Soviet Russia and the United States.

It is interesting that no matter what has since been tried ends in failure. The reason, of course, is that no principles guide the world today. No contract can be written without basic and agreed principles; no treaty of peace can be written without basic and agreed principles.

Kinds of courtroom difficulties later on because it was a dubious entertainment for children at best. Miss Hart had on red hair, a black dress and a set of silver fox furs. Jimmy and I wore sack suits, white shirts and four-in-hands.

It was 11:32 by the Paramount clock when we left Times Square, and the journey itself was a melancholy, almost silent one.

It seems peculiar that one should be grief-stricken over not being permitted to take any more cabs to Jersey, but we were.

I remember Margie musing softly that the ODT order would hurt "rich guys who used to take cabs to Jersey or Connecticut to save tires on their own cars," and we all bowed our heads in sympathy for the rich guys.

Down at Hudson and Perry streets, our cab slowed down for a traffic jam and a smoky stuck his face into the back. "I need two cents for a shot," he said, and Jimmy handed over a buck. "We are taking the Last Cab to New Jersey," he said to the drunk, who frowned. "Jersey," he muttered, and walked away.

WE HIT THE HOLLAND TUNNEL about a minute before midnight, eel our way through its long, endless, terrifying stretch of white tiled walls, and presently came out in what I always have suspected is Jersey City. There was no ceremony, no planting of flowers, no recitation of Dowson's "They are not long, the days of wine and roses." The cab stopped momentarily, the driver said "Jersey" and sniffed. We looked out.

Jersey, all right. We had taken the last legitimate cab ride there, and any further traffic of this kind would be under-the-counter and with the meter stopped.

There being no further reason for remaining in New Jersey, we turned promptly around and went back through the tunnel. Miss Hart left the entourage at Twelfth street, down in the Village; a girl she knew who had just baked a meat loaf that day lived there.

Jimmy and I returned to Times Square and got out and stood in front of the Astor for a little while, morosely. He shuffled a deck of cards and half-heartedly tried out that trick where he throws a lighted match around his waist and into his mouth, still lithe, but his heart wasn't in it.

Savo looked up at me and there was a hundred years of tragedy and misery in his dark eyes. "Now you can't take a cab there no more," he said. I nodded. Then, as I recall, Life Moved On.

On looking back at it, I suppose the chief value of that journey was that it demonstrated a remarkable lesson in how to waste an hour's time.

Worlds were falling, empires were crumbling and wars were exploding, and we were taking a magnificently unnecessary taxicab ride to New Jersey. We were three New Yorkers earnestly in search of whimsy, and if you cry "Faugh!" and imagine sourly that most New Yorkers are like that, there is more than an outside chance you are right.

Disease Which Has Many Forms

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

WHEN THERE IS BLEEDING INTO THE SKIN AND MUCOUS MEMBRANES, THE CONDITION IS KNOWN AS PURPURA.

HOWEVER, THE TERM IS OFTEN USED TO REFER TO A CONDITION IN WHICH THERE IS A BREAKING OF THE TINY BLOOD VESSELS OR CAPILLARIES OR INCREASED EASE OF PASSAGE OF THE BLOOD THROUGH THE CAPILLARIES, SO THAT THERE IS NOT ONLY BLEEDING INTO THE SKIN AND MUCOUS MEMBRANES BUT INTO OTHER BODY STRUCTURES.

APPARENTLY THERE ARE MANY FORMS OF THIS DISEASE. SOME CASES ARE DUE TO ACUTE INFECTIONS. IN SUCH INSTANCES IT IS LIKELY THAT THE POISON FORMED BY THE GERMS ARE ON THE LINING MEMBRANES OF THE BLOOD VESSELS, SO THAT THE BLOOD MAY ESCAPE THROUGH THEM.

DIETARY DEFICIENCY

OTHER CASES ARE DUE TO DIETARY DEFICIENCIES. FOR EXAMPLE, IN SCURVY, WHICH COMES FROM A DEFICIENCY OF VITAMIN C, PURPURA OR BLEEDING OFTEN OCCURS. STILL ANOTHER CAUSE IS ALLERGY OR OVER-SENSITIVITY. ASSOCIATED WITH PURPURA MAY BE HIVES OR FLESH.

PROBABLY THE MOST IMPORTANT FORM OF PURPURA IS ONE KNOWN AS THROMBOCYTOPENIC PURPURA WHICH IS ASSOCIATED WITH A DECREASE IN THE NUMBER OF BLOOD PLATELETS. THESE ARE BITS OF TISSUE IN THE BLOOD WHICH PLAY A PART IN THE BLOOD CLOTTING PROCESS. THIS DISORDER IS MOST COMMON IN CHILDREN AND YOUNG ADULTS. WOMEN HAVE IT ABOUT FOUR TIMES AS OFTEN AS MEN. BLEEDING INTO THE SKIN IS THE MOST COMMON SIGN OF THE DISEASE. IN ADDITION TO THE BLEEDING, THERE MAY BE A RAPID HEART BEAT AND SLIGHT FEVER. THE SPLEEN, IN THE LEFT UPPER PART OF THE ABDOMEN, MAY BE ENLARGED. THE EXACT CAUSE OF THIS DISORDER IS NOT KNOWN. Fortunately, MANY TIMES THE CONDITION CLEARS UP WITH REST AND A WELL-BALANCED DIET.

IF A GREAT DEAL OF BLOOD IS LOST, IT MAY BE NECESSARY TO GIVE AN INJECTION OF WHOLE BLOOD INTO A VEIN. IF THE BLOOD LOSS IS LIGHT, THE GIVING OF SOME IRON-CONTAINING PREPARATION IS HELPFUL. SOME CASES HAVE BEEN REPORTED TO HAVE BEEN GRADUALLY IMPROVED BY THE GIVING OF VITAMIN E.

THE REMOVAL OF THE SPLEEN IS NECESSARY IN TREATING THE MORE SEVERE CASES. THE INJECTION OF SMALL AMOUNTS OF VENOM FROM SOME SPECIES OF SNAKES HAS ALSO BEEN HELPFUL IN SOME CASES OF THROMBOCYTOPENIC PURPURA.

WHEN BLEEDING INTO THE SKIN OCCURS, THERE NEED FOR A THOROUGH STUDY TO DETERMINE ITS CAUSE BEFORE PROPER TREATMENT CAN BE CARRIED OUT WITHOUT DELAY.

15th Anniversary Marked By Dinner Meeting Of Pickaway Garden Club

Former Officers Give Resumes

A dinner Friday evening in Circleville Presbyterian church marked the 15th anniversary of the founding of Pickaway Garden Club. A special program was arranged when former presidents of the club gave resumes of their terms of office and accomplishments of those periods.

Among those heard were Mrs. Clark K. Hunsicker, Mrs. E. E. Porter, Mrs. Clarence McAbee, Mrs. G. Guy Campbell, Mrs. Blanche Motschman, Mrs. Emmett W. Barnhart and Mrs. Ione Neicholdorfer. Mrs. Donald E. Mitchell is president-elect, replacing Mrs. Barnhart.

Mrs. Dudley J. Carpenter and Mrs. Robert Wallace entertained the group by singing duets and solos. Motion pictures of Colorado and the Rocky Mountains were shown by Mrs. Norbert Cochran.

About 60 members of the club and their guests were present for the celebration. Dinner was served by women of the church at tables bearing Christmas decorations, greenery and lighted tapers. Gifts were exchanged by the group. Mrs. James P. Moffitt served as toastmistress.

Mrs. Barnhart gave the welcoming address. Mrs. Moffitt told of the club's organization in 1933 with a charter membership of 30.

Decorations of pinecones, spruce, berries, favors and placecards in keeping with the holiday season were arranged by Mrs. John Mast, Mrs. Turney Pontius and Mrs. A. J. Lyle.

Charter members present were Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Pontius, Mrs. Thomas Jeffries, Mrs. Turney Pontius, Mrs. George Keeley and Mrs. Moffitt. Letters were read from Mrs. F. K. Blair, former president, and Mrs. Fred Cook, honorary member.

Household Hints

When you are going to steam vegetables, use only enough boiling water to supply steam during the cooking.

To give a nice finish to a pumpkin pie, make a Mile High Meringue with 2 egg whites, and put a border around the edge. Bake 12 min. in a very slow oven until light brown; cover the open center with fine chopped nuts, and make a decoration in the middle with two dates cut in quarters lengthwise.

If you're making fudge for the holidays, cook over low heat until the sugar is completely dissolved, stirring constantly. If you want to wash down the sugar crystals that form on the side of the saucepan, use a fork whose tines have been wrapped in a small piece of damp cheesecloth.

For ladies who like to look decorative even while setting their hair, there are now on the market dainty and colorful ribbon curlers. They come packaged in cellophane envelopes each containing seven curlers in assorted shades.

For an extra special occasion apply two different powder foundations, a darker one first, then a lighter one. The darker one deepens and softens any protrusions. Darkening along the sides of the nose will give it a fine line.

Two egg yolks will thicken a cup of milk for a soft custard sauce to serve over fresh orange slices or other fruit. Add a dash of salt and two tablespoons of sugar before cooking over hot water. When thickened and cooled, add a quarter of a teaspoon of vanilla.

Now available is a new home hair dryer which fits over the head like a cap and has no electrical attachments. Filled with small, porous materials it absorbs moisture and dries a hair set in about forty-five minutes.

A thin protecting film on your face will aid immeasurably in keeping the skin from becoming chapped in winter weather.

TRIBE, BOSOX ONLY BARS

Yanks After '49 Pennant; To Trade About Anybody

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—The New York Yankees plan to win the pennant next baseball season, barring an encore by the Cleveland Indians or a resurgence of the Boston Red Sox.

George Weiss, general manager of the New York club left today for the minor league meetings in Minneapolis prepared to trade any Yank, except Joe DiMaggio and Tommy Henrich.

Weiss and Dan Topping, co-owner of the Yankees, have talked with several clubs about trades and hope to come up with some changes designed to strengthen the Yankee pitching staff.

There was a personnel problem last season due to the waywardness of pitchers Joe Page and Allie Reynolds and Outfielder Johnny Lindell, among others, but Casey Stengel, the new manager, is expected to correct this. He said:

"I KNOW some of these ball players are better players than their records of 1948 indicate and I'd like to get a whack at them to see what I can get out of them."

The Yankee management is depending upon Stengel's paternal attitude and persuasiveness to bring into line the players who last season were so difficult in the Yankees near-miss for the pennant.

Yankee officials also conceded as they shovelled off for Minneapolis that Cleveland will be the club to beat in 1948, with Boston a possibility.

A spokesman for the club said, however, that he did not see how Cleveland's acquisition of Joe Haynes and Frank Papish from the Chicago White Sox materially strengthened the pitching staff.

This official said the two hurlers might help, but added:

Pacific Coast Paper Urges Dumping Big 9

PORLAND, Ore., Dec. 4.—Rumblings that something should be done about the present Rose Bowl contract between the Pacific Coast Conference and the Big Nine found expression today in an editorial of The Portland Oregonian. The paper stated:

"No tears will be shed by West Coast football fans if the Big Nine conference, as reported probable in a Chicago dispatch, does not renew its agreement to provide a team for the Rose Bowl each year."

"The Rose Bowl, original big national game of post season football play does not even match the Big Nine champion against the coast champion."

"We vote for restoration of the old program, as soon as possible."

The Pacific Coast Conference champion to invite the toughest team in the nation. The Rose Bowl has lost national prestige and West Coast interest as a result of the Big Nine contract."

New' Rockets Hope To Upset New York Yanks

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—The Chicago Rockets and the New York Yankees of the All-America Football Conference closed their seasons today in Soldier Field.

The lowly "new" Rockets were gunning for their second victory while the Yanks sought to snap a two-game losing streak. Neither eleven had anything to gain other than a consolation prize.

The Chicago club went into the game with a record of one win and 12 defeats and hoped to better its 1-13 record of last year by coming out on top.

The Yankees, who won the first contest between the two teams by a 42-to-7 score, already had been knocked out of contention for the eastern division title which they won last year.

Buffalo's Bills can clinch the eastern division title in the All-America Conference tomorrow by defeating the second-place Colts at Baltimore.

BUFFALO is favored to win this clash, which will be a passing duel between two brilliant 22-year-old T-quarterbacks, George Hatterman of the Bills and Y. A. Title of the Colts.

If the Colts win, they must beat Buffalo again on Dec. 12 to earn a playoff berth on Dec. 19.

In other AAC games, Cleveland is favored over Brooklyn and San Francisco over Los Angeles.

In the western division of the professional National Football League, where Chicago's Cardinals and Bears are tied for first place, the issue can not be settled until these two rivals clash a week from tomorrow.

Lamotta Wins Over Yarosz In Middle Bout

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—Jake Lamotta, the bull of the Bronx, again occupied a prominent place in the middleweight sun today as a result of his victory over Tommy Yarosz, of Monaca, Pa., in the feature 10-round bout in Madison Square Garden last night.

It was Lamotta's first appearance in the Garden since he was suspended a little more than a year ago for a questionable fight with Billy Fox. Now he is in line for a bout, either over the weight or for the title, with France's Marcel Cerdan, world's middleweight champion.

The decision was unanimous, but the fight was close.

Lamotta, a strong favorite, won only because of his eternal aggressiveness and because he floored Yarosz in the first round, although for no count. He kept boring in even when being knocked half groggy with barrages of rights and lefts.

County Extension Office Compiles List Of Activities

Busy Year Rounded Out By Officials

Detailed Account Given On Work

Larry Best and Miss Genevieve Alley, Pickaway County extension agent and home demonstration agent respectively, have compiled a massive report detailing their activities since last December.

According to the report, the pair has had but few idle moments during the period.

The couple has had a total of 1,450 calls come into the county offices during the last year while completing a total of 2,255 phone calls from the offices.

They have covered nearly every portion of the county in their efforts to boost farming facilities here, having paid 884 farm homes visits during the period and distributing 2,150 bulletins.

A TOTAL of nine "live" radio broadcasts have been made by them, not including numerous transcriptions which later were played back.

Other figures on the report shows the pair conducted 35 tours since last year with a total of 559 attending, and held five camps with 336 attending.

Together Best and Miss Alley have held 238 other meetings of extension nature with 9,334 persons attending, and held 80 training meetings for local leaders. The leaders, in turn, held a total of 165 meetings during the period with 3,090 in attendance.

But where the pair shines especially is in 4-H Club work, handling 32 clubs with a total membership of 528. They have trained the 59 advisers for the 4-H'ers.

An increase of three percent into 4-H Club work was noted during the past year along with a 15.7 percent increase in the number of projects undertaken by the 4-H'ers.

This year the club members completed 721 separate projects, entering 649 of them in the Pickaway County Fair and 37 in the Ohio State Fair. A total of 160 demonstrations were presented by 4-H'ers and health examinations were taken by 358.

APPROXIMATELY 639 garments were made by girl club members during the period, 779 head of livestock raised along with 650 birds and approximately 200 rabbits.

Miss Alley's girl 4-H Club members planned or served 246 meals during the year, with a completion record of 92.7 percent.

In addition to the already established functions for the coming year, the pair have set down the following objectives for themselves during the period:

1. Less emphasis on 4-H championship projects and more emphasis on general high quality.

2. Stress Conservation in all Extension Activities.

3. Broaden older rural youth program.

4. Inform public of economic trends.

5. Continue livestock improvement program.

6. Establish Agronomy Demonstrations.

7. Make available weed control information.

8. Assist in making home furnishings dollar go farther.

9. Develop worthwhile leisure time activities.

10. Continue personal contacts.

11. Stress farm safety.

12. Integrate Organizations.

Big Question Of Hawaii Strike Blame Unknown

TOKYO, Dec. 4—The great trial of Hideki Tojo and his 24 leading cohorts has ended without answering the major question of who conceived the surprise attack on Pearl Harbor.

Legally that question is important today because the surprise element of the attack was a major factor in convincing the International Far East Military Tribunal that Japan waged an illegal war.

It is doubtful, however, whether any of the seven men sentenced to die or the 16 imprisoned for life conceived the idea of the surprise blow at the American Navy.

It is equally doubtful whether it will ever be known exactly who decided that Japan should strike against the United States before American forces could be warned.

It appears that Japan's military men many years ago decided that if war with the United States was necessary, then Japan had to start it by surprise.

ONE STRONG piece of evidence in support of this theory is written in a book by British Army Captain M. D. Kennedy, who had served with the Japanese army as an exchange officer after World War I. Kennedy wrote:

"In 1919 and 1920, the present writer heard the opinion expressed that the sooner Japan fought America the better, as otherwise America might join the League of Nations, in which case three months' notice would have to be given before hostilities could be opened, and this would be fatal to Japan, whose only chance of success lay in a sudden, rapid blow."

Expert Warns Corn Belt May Move Into Dixie

CHICAGO, Dec. 4—An Agriculture Department official cautioned corn belt farmers today that without better soil protection methods they may lose their greatest cash crop to the South.

Robert M. Salter, chief of the bureau of plant industry, said: "Interest in improved corn production is truly sweeping the South" with many excellent hybrids being turned out.

Salter spoke before the American Seed Trade Association. He said:

"The South has a longer growing season and more abundant rainfall than the Midwest. Large acreages are equally adapted to mechanization.

"Unless Midwestern farmers adopt more effective measures for protecting their God-given heritage of productive soil, it is not inconceivable that future generations will look South when they speak of the great American corn belt."

"Farmers of this important area (the corn belt) must awake to the situation and take prompt measures to stem soil depletion."

Today that for him the political post has been a labor of love.

The honeymoon is over, though. He announced he is going to resign because "I have to earn a living." Waring is an investment broker.

The 47th gal was a confirmed man-hater anyway.

Digging into his voluminous records, the good Doc disclosed that all but one of 47 old-maid ladies whose noses he reshaped during the past four semesters got themselves husbands almost upon removing their bandages.
